Message from the President

Misty Nuttle
President, Pawnee Nation

Nova Pawnee Akiktar!

In July, we had the Homecoming activities and events and the Pawnee Nation would like to extend our congratulations to all of the contest, activities and event winners and a huge "Thank You" to all of the programs, staff and volunteers who always ensure we have activities for participants of all ages to engage in. These programs focus on creating both healthy and preventative activities and a lot of time is spent planning an enjoyable weekend, full of friendly and oriented fun. We hope everyone had a great time and look forward to next year’s activities.

Following the Homecoming, the Annual Pawnee WItchita Visitation was held in Anadarko, OK from July 22-August 1, 2015. Participation in this historic and cultural event has become a yearly tradition and there was a great showing in the number of camps set up and participation in all the activities. It is enjoyable to see young men stand and speak on the behalf of the Nation, in events such as these. Participation brings about knowledge, custom and protocol that cannot be learned in a textbook and the confidence gained will carry the individual throughout all of their future endeavors.

The Wichita Tribe was very courteous and hospitable as this year’s host and next year, we hope we will be able to return the favor of their graciousness. In August, the Nation prepared for sending students back to school. The Pawnee Nation Summer Youth Camp was held August 3-7, 2015 for ages 7-16 and with a focus on culture, language, art, science and math. The Pawnee Business Council also voted to approve supplemental funding to assist with the purchase of school supplies for Native American students residing outside of our jurisdiction as well as an additional fund for tribal members residing outside of our jurisdiction.

The Pawnee Nation welcomes the fall season as we prepare to undergo strategic planning for the future of our Nation and set tribal priorities. This past year, the Pawnee Nation submitted the 2014 Annual Report, initiated proceedings to assist in completing our 2014 audit, work will commence to finalize and complete our 2016 Indirect Cost Proposal. It has taken the Nation great strides to regain focus on re structuring our infrastructure and maintaining financial stability with regard to internal processes and procedures. Recognizing these components are vital in conducting secure business transactions and essential safeguards are in place to protect the Nation’s assets and resources is at the forefront of each of our endeavors. In November, the Pawnee Nation held their first ever “Chatricks si Chatricks” rodeo, September 4-5, 2015 at the Pawnee Lakeside Arena. There were many local food vendors and the participants traveled from throughout Oklahoma and beyond. The Tour expressed gratitude to the Pawnee Nation, Pawnee Nation Business Council (PN BDC), Ronnie Jespest, and the City and community of Anadarko for hosting this event. Thank you to all of your hard work and effort.

Upon completion of the Pawnee Business Council strategic planning session, we will set dates for community planning meetings to solicit input from ALL tribal members. We need input from ALL tribal members. The type of input we will be soliciting will be for all type of input we will be soliciting. We need input from ALL tribal members. The type of input we will be soliciting will be for all type of input we will be soliciting. We hope your thoughts and ideas will be used to attain and achieve common goals, if done correctly. On behalf of the Pawnee Business Council, we look forward to hearing your thoughts and ideas of creating an enhanced and improved Pawnee Nation.

The Pawnee Code Talkers of World War II transmitted, received and encrypted sensitive tactical messages in their native Pawnee language over military telephone and radio communications. The German and Japanese Armies knew nothing of these messages. Many Allied lives were saved as a result of their front-line use of these native language messages.

On October 15, 2008, President George W. Bush signed into law the Code Talker Recognition Act of 2008 that authorized the awarding of the Congressional Gold Medal to the Pawnee Code Talkers of World War II. The Medal is the highest civilian award bestowed by the Congress. The Medal is the highest civilian award bestowed by the Congress.

Pawnee Nation College Celebrates Tenth Anniversary Celebration

Pawnee Nation College (PNC) is celebrating its tenth anniversary this upcoming school year. In 2004, the Pawnee Nation Business Council unanimously passed a resolution establishing PNC, which started in the fall of 2005. According to President Mike Burgess, to honor the occasion, students, faculty and staff will host a number of events including symposiums and festivities. The ninth annual powwow, postponed last spring due to the death of a tribal member, will be held Saturday, October 3rd. The PNC Tenth Anniversary Powwow Celebration will be held during the spring semester. From the beginning, PNC has committed to serving the needs of the Pawnee community by providing accessible educational opportunities that are responsive to a diverse population and lead to constructive citizenship, meaningful careers and lifelong learning.

According to Staci Burns, Director of Admissions, PNC graduated twenty-seven students since 2007, with an Associates of Arts Degree, in American Indian Studies (AIS): Leadership and Management. In May the college had its first two students complete their Bachelor’s Degree in American Indian Studies: Leadership and Management, through Bacone College. PNC serves as a program site for Bacone College; where students can attend the PNC campus and take Bachelor courses from Bacone College in American Indian Studies. The 2014-2015 enrollment was seventy-eight students, with four Associates of Arts graduates, two Bachelor of Arts graduates, six certificate program completions with five of those participants receiving job placement upon completion. Burns states, “We have served over 300 students, from twenty different tribes.”

In addition to Associates and Bachelor Degrees in American Indian Studies, PNC offers healthcare related certifications including Certified Nurse Aid (CNA), Certified Medication Aid (CMA), and a Medical Coding Program; as well as Information Technology Certifications in Microsoft Office 2013 Suite Professional Series. PNC was awarded the Native American Career Technological Education Program (NACTEP) Grant in 2007 and again in 2013. PNC is currently involved with three National Science Foundation research projects through the University of Nebraska, University of Oklahoma, and Oklahoma State University.

Our second activity was the annual Tiny Tot Contest held during the Pawnee Indian Veterans Homecoming. The Health Education Program offered physical activity and outside play incentives to the children that participated. We appreciate the Pawnee Indian Veterans Committee for allowing us to help with this event. The Tiny Tots Contest provides the opportunity for children to engage in cultural activity while also being physically active and healthy.

The staff of the CHR/Health Education Programs enjoys working to provide wellness and health promotion opportunities for the Pawnee community. As always, we welcome any new ideas on how to serve you better. Feel free to stop by the office located at 400 Agency Road (old Indian Clinic) or contact the Program Coordinator at (918) 762-3873, ext. 1.
In June of 2015 Rhonda James partook in a 40 hour intensive training to become a “SAFESTAR” for the community of Pawnee, Oklahoma. She was trained and qualified to provide emergency first aid, health care reference, counseling, and forensic examinations to sexual assault victims. It is an honor to have the chance to become a SAFESTAR and be that special person to help someone on their journey to healing. They can be called 24/7 to help a victim, and has been sexually assaulted but not to only collect evidence but just be a listening ear in the time of need.

SAFESTAR is on a volunteer basis and Rhonda will be available anytime to help a victim that is in crisis. She is a trusted and loved person in the Pawnee Nation community that was handpicked to offer this kind of sensitive care on her personal time. SAFESTAR will be working alongside the Pawnee Nation Ti Hirasa Domestic Violence Program to help victims with any needs that they might have and can qualify for. SAFESTARS also take a stand against sexual violence in the Pawnee Nation community and support all victims of sexual violence. Every victim of sexual violence, whether it is past or present, deserves the chance to be heard and have evidence collected that will be used as evidence in an option. The Pawnee County SAFESTAR is Rhonda James find her contact information is 918-285-1941 and she can be reached at any time.

Jaidyn Spotted Wolf received a commendation from Governor Mary Fallin’s office for being selected an Oklahoma Student Ambassador.

Jaidyn spent two weeks in France and England this summer as part of her ambassadorial duties.

While in France, Jaidyn went to the Chateau de Versailles, the palace from the top of the Eiffel Tower, had an art lesson with a French painter, went to Montmartre and the Basque du Saon Couer, toured the Musee du Louvre which holds the original Mona Lisa, and visited the Musee du Louvre which holds the original Mona Lisa, and visited the Notre Dame Cathedral, the Arc de Triomphe, and the Montmartre around Elysee. She spent a day at Disneyland Paris and had a day of World War II history at Normandy. From Normandy she took an overnight ferry to England where she saw Stonehenge, the city of Bath, Oxford University, and Warwick Castle. While at Warwick Castle she had a lesson in being a knight, complete with instruction in sword fighting. While in London she rode the underground “tube,” saw the lions in Trafalgar Square, visited the Palace of Westminster, and saw St. Paul’s Cathedral, the Tower Bridge and the most famous clock in the world, Big Ben. Afternoon Tea in the London Hotel, went to Buckingham Palace to view the Changing of the Guard, and then traveled to the British theater with a drama workshop led by a professional British acting coach and actor. She went to the Tower of London where she watched the Queen’s Guard ceremony, and then traveled to be an official military ceremony for opening the Tower gates. She took a cruise ride on the River Thames and met with a former member of Parliament.

Jaidyn is a 7th grade student at Clyde Boyd Middle School in Sand Springs and is an active member of the Pawnee Nation of Oklahoma. She is the daughter of Vicki Ecret and Jack No Ear Spotted Wolf, the grand-daughter of the late Freda Shuckakoose and the great-granddaughter of the late Regina Wilson.

Irene drove from Santa Fe, New Mexico to Amarillo, Texas to obtain the mural, and also sent messages Nancy asking for the Pawnee Nation Museum and told the story of having the mural to the Pawnee Nation Museum. For more information regarding the Title VI Program, please feel free to stop by the Elder Center at (918) 762-4042 or stop by at 901 Agency Road.

Some of you may have driven through Amarillo, Texas on the way to the Gathering of Nations, Santa Fe Indian Market or other points west. You would not think that you would find a part of Pawnee history in Amarillo. But tucked away in the back of the Big Texan Steakhouse, home of the 72-ounce steak, is a vinyl mural, an enormous picture approximately 6 feet tall and 18 feet long of Pawnee history in standing in front of an iconic Pawnee mud lodge. This used mural now belongs to the Pawnee Nation Museum.

The story begins when Irene Edwards sees the Facebook cover photo of her friend, Nancy Smith, Amarillo, standing in front of this huge picture of Pawnees. Friends of Nancy were asking what tribe the men were, and Irene wanted to know who the owners would be willing to let the Pawnees have it. Long story short, Nancy, friends with the Lee brothers, owners of the steakhouse, was the go-between in obtaining the mural. For over a year, Irene, now retired, and Nancy, a professional photographer, was trying to coordinate to pick up the mural, but family members schedules were cooperative.

Irene placed a call to Andrew KnifeChief, Tribal Historic Preservation Officer, and Jeffrey Hay, Communications Manager, to tell them about obtaining the mural, and also sent messages to the Pawnee Nation Council and to the Pawnee Nation Museum regarding the presentation of the mural to the Museum if their schedules allowed. With daughter Claire, Irene drove from Santa Fe, stopped in Amarillo to pick up the mural, and then delivered the mural to the Pawnee Nation Museum and told the story of getting the mural, saying these Pawnees were next home! Attending were Pawnee Nation Business Council President, Msty Notek, Vice-President Bruce Pratt, Andrew KnifeChief, Office of Historic Preservation, Muriel Robedeaux, Division Director, Administrative Affairs, Marty Only A Chief, Pawnee Education Dept., and Pawnee community member Blanche Smith. Muriel took photos at the presentation.

On Saturday, July 4th, the Veterans are led into the Arena by Active Duty Pawnee Tribal Member, Lt. Edward Echohawk.
Deb Echo-Hawk, Frazier and Danielle Wheatley and the Pawnee Nation Elder Center Garden and Elder Home Gardens:

On the south side of the Elder Center, thirty-six hills were made and planted on May 22 that produced 298 healthy Blue Corn stocks having one per plant for the cob. The hills were made in very similar ways so the hills were formed into bowl-like structures that hardened like pottery. We filled the bowls with a mix of soil and limestone that came from beneath the Buffalo Theatre basement excavations. That guaranteed that no seeds were in the bowl soil except in the pottery bowls. We planted the corn on June 1 and were able to harvest the ears by August 11. We were able to produce some "kitchen sink" seeds, too, for a new garden it is doing well.

We did have several elders helping with the gardens. The summer youth workers, Brett Eppler and Dusty Sletto, gave around 12 hours of hoeing duties. The potatoes and tomatoes looked good. Another elder gardener, J. Irwin, created several garden areas for plants to plans our Pawnee traditional seeds next year.

Staff and Elders had a great chuckle over this.

Positions are still available, until filled, for the following Commissions:
